International Environmental Law and Community Interests: The Role of Procedure

Wednesday, 14 September 2016, 16:00

Professor Jutta Brunnée
University of Toronto

Professor of Law and Metcalf Chair in Environmental Law, University of Toronto. Her teaching and research interests are in the areas of public international law and international environmental law.

Professor Brunnée is co-author of Legitimacy and Legality in International Law: An Interactional Account (Cambridge University Press, 2010), which was awarded the American Society of International Law’s 2011 Certificate of Merit for preeminent contribution to creative scholarship.

She has authored numerous articles on topics of international environmental law and international law, and is co-editor of the Oxford Handbook of International Environmental Law (Oxford University Press 2007).

She is a member of the International Law Association’s Committee on Legal Principles relating to Climate Change and of World Conservation Union’s (IUCN) Environmental Law Commission, served on the Board of Editors of the American Journal of International Law from 2006 - 2016 and was elected Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada in 2013.

Contact person: Sabrina Logrillo • Phone: (+352) 26 94 88 926 • events@mpi.lu

Venue: Max Planck Institute Luxembourg for Procedural Law • 4, rue Alphonse Weicker • L-2721 Luxembourg • Conference room, 4th floor