I. General Style: Text

1. Text formatting
   - Do not use any of the provided ‘styles’ in Word (Heading 1, Subtitle, Emphasis, etc).
   - Do not use page breaks.

2. Charts and Graphs
   - Every table or figure used in the text must be supplied as a separate object and clearly referenced within the text.
   - Permission to use the table or figure online should be agreed with the rights holder and confirmed as cleared with OUP on handover of the article.
   - Make sure that the image resolution is of a good quality.
   - Avoid wide landscape tables.
   - Use a simple numbering convention: Figure 1, Figure 2 or Table 1, Table 2.
   - Refer to the tables and figures in the text.

   Example:
   This is shown in Figure 1.

   - Include a placement indicator in the manuscript to show where the artwork should be placed. Example: ‘Insert Figure 1’
   - Write a caption beneath this cue or list all captions, for each chapter, in a separate document.

   Example:
   Figure 1: Cross Debarments Honoured (2010-2015) Source: MDB’s Annual Reports from 2010 to 2014 and MDB’s Websites for FY 2015.

   - Sources can be included in the list of Cited Documents.

3. Abbreviations
   - Abbreviations used in the text must be introduced: At their first occurrence, they are to be put in parentheses following the fully written term, and should be surrounded by single quotation marks.
   - However, where the first reference to an abbreviation appears in brackets in the title of an article to which a cross-reference is being included, the abbreviation in the title of the cross-referenced article may serve as the introduction of the abbreviation, and the quotation marks should not be used in such instances since the quotation marks do not appear in the title of the article being cross-referenced.
   - Once an abbreviation is introduced, this abbreviation must be used in the whole text, with an exception for headings.
   - You need not define, or punctuate, an abbreviation that is part of everyday usage (eg, ‘eg’ or ‘etc’). Do not abbreviate the following expressions:
     - Annex or Annexes
     - Chapter
The Additional Protocol (‘AP’) was signed by the States Parties on Thursday. The → International Court of Justice (ICJ) [MPEPIL] held that the AP was invalid. Conversely, the Mediterranean Court (‘Court’) found the AP to be applicable. The Court challenged the ICJ’s ruling.

- You may also use the following abbreviations without introducing them and without punctuation:
  - edition/editions: edn/edns
  - editor/editors: ed/eds
  - et cetera: etc
  - following: ff
  - footnote/footnotes: fn/fns
  - for example: eg
  - that is: ie
  - number: no
  - number (of an Act, Report etc): No
  - paragraph/paragraphs: para/paras
  - section/sections: secsecs
  - supplement/supplements: supp/supps
  - translated, translation/translator: trans/tr
  - volume/volumes: vol/vols

4. Authors’ names

- Follow OSCOLA (available here: https://www.law.ox.ac.uk/sites/files/oxlaw/oscola_4th_edn_hart_2012.pdf)
- and in particular for international law, here: https://www.law.ox.ac.uk/sites/files/oxlaw/oscola_2006_citing_international_law.pdf
- When abbreviating first names, do not drop any hyphens or apostrophes.
- If the authors’ names have additional components, do not drop, change or shorten them.
- Within citations and the select bibliography, reproduce the name exactly as it was in the respective original publication.
- Chinese names: Reverse the typical order of Chinese names—which would place the family name before the given name—so that they read like Western names and then apply OSCOLA.
- When citing an entry in the text which has more than two authors or editors, write the first author’s or editor’s name followed by ‘and others’. When listing the entry in the bibliography, include all authors’ or editors’ names.

Examples:
U Di Fabio, J-P Truyol y Serra, and A von Bogdandy
J Hu (NOT Hu Jintao)
| 5. Capitalization, General | - Remain consistent throughout the text.
  - ‘Court’ may be capitalized if it replaces a proper noun.
  - Power(s) may be capitalized where it refers to a group of States known as such during certain periods of history. |
|----------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|
| 6. Capitalization in titles and subtitles | - The OSCOLA rules on capitalization shall be applied to titles of treaties, resolutions, cases etc, even if the original title uses upper or lower case letters.
  - The first letter of each major word should be capitalized, while minor words like prepositions and articles are not.
  - We do not capitalize the following words in titles:
    - in particular
    - between
    - concerning
    - regarding
    - relating
    - relative
    - pursuant to
    - with regard to
  - Non-English titles are not capitalized according to English grammar, but according to the rules applying in the respective language.
  - Examples:
    - J Djoudi, La constatation de l'acquiescement implicite au jugement...
    - G Cavaretta, La prescrizione nel diritto internazionale privato ...
    - JV Louis, 'La personnalité juridique internationale de la Communauté et de l'Union européenne'... |
| 7. Capitalization of proper nouns and their abbreviations | - English proper nouns are capitalized.
  - Non-English proper nouns are capitalized according to the rules of the respective language.
  - If a capitalized abbreviation of a proper noun has been introduced, capitalize this abbreviation throughout the text.
  - Example:
    - At first, the Convention for the Protection of Children (‘Convention’) was controversial. By now, the Convention has been signed almost universally. As opposed to many other conventions, the Convention was even supported by Evilland.
    - Tribunal de grande instance de la Seine (French Ordinary Court of Original Jurisdiction), Paul Clerget v Banque commerciale pour l’Europe du Nord et Banque du commerce extérieur du Vietnam... |
| 8. Cross-references to other MPEiPro, MPEPIL, and MPECCoL Encyclopedia articles | - Cross-references to other articles in the MPEiPro, MPEPIL, or MPECCoL Encyclopedia are to be formatted thus:
  - All cross references to other articles in any of these Encyclopedias should have an arrow plus a space before them.
  - They should be italicized.
  - They should exactly match the title of the document being referenced.
  - When placed within the running text, they should be... written in sentence case.

→ When featured in parentheses (ie referenced ‘outside’ of the text of the sentence), they should follow the capitalization of the title of the original entry.

→ If the adaptation requires the insertion of words or letters, put these additional words in square brackets, and use non-italicized and not bold font.

→ A particular cross-reference should only appear once within an article.

→ References to MPEPIL or MPECCoL must be indicated using a ‘tag’ in square brackets after the name of the entry, whereas the same is not necessary for cross-references to MPEiPro entries.

→ In the case of cross-references to several other articles in a row, put an arrow before each cross-reference and separate the cross-references with a semi-colon.

→ Do not put cross-references within verbatim quotations.

→ Do not use pinpoints in cross-references to other articles.

Examples:

This principle was developed by the International Court of Justice in the → Fisheries Case (United Kingdom v Norway) [MPEPIL].

Generally speaking, acquiescence is often considered as a form of tacit recognition through conduct which implies → consent [MPEPIL].

In that sense, it is very much similar, in its functioning, to the CJEU's archetypal mechanism (→ Preliminary ruling: European Court of Justice (ECJ); → European Union, Court of Justice and General Court [MPEPIL]).

Currencies

• Currency symbols should be used whenever accompanied by numerals and spelled out when simply referring to the monetary currency.

• Currencies should not be capitalized unless included in a title.

Examples:

He paid US$4000.

The company claimed €120,000 in damages.

The salary of the judges was paid in Dutch florins.

The euro is the currency of the Netherlands.

Dates

• Follow OSCOLA.

• ‘Before Current Era’ is abbreviated ‘BCE’. We use this term rather than ‘Before Christ’.

11. Emphasis

Adding emphasis in the text of the entry:

• If an author wants to emphasize a word, use italics.

• Do not use bold type or quotation marks.

• Excessive emphasizing should be reduced to a reasonable level.

Signalling emphasis in quotations:

• When there was no emphasis in the original and the author has added it, please use: [emphasis added]

• If there was emphasis in the original and it is retained, please use:
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>5</th>
<th><img src="image.png" alt="Image" /></th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| [emphasis in original] | • If there was emphasis in the original and the author has removed it, [emphasis removed] should be used.
• Finally, [emphasis changed from original] should be used where original emphasis has been removed or changed, and/or other emphasis has been added at the same time. |
| 12. Foreign legal terms | • Foreign legal terms should be spelled and italicized as they appear in OSCOLA (7) and in the Oxford English Dictionary (OED). |
| 13. Gender-specific pronouns for ships and countries | • Do not use ‘she’ and ‘her’ but rather ‘it’ and ‘its’ when referring to ships. |
| 14. Hyphens and Dashes | • A hyphen (short) is used to make one word out of the two words separated by the hyphen.
• An n-dash (medium) indicates a range of numbers, pages, years etc. It may also carry the sense ‘versus’.
• An m-dash (long) can be used to enclose a parenthetical remark.

Examples:
inner-State, decision-making, Secretary-General.
In the years 1990–1995, there were fewer people in the £25,000–£30,000 salary range (Schmidt 3–5).
The Franco–Prussian War ...
‘Widespread’ indicates the scale of an attack against a civilian population—not an isolated act but large-scale action directed against multiple victims. |
| 15. Italics | • Remain consistent throughout the text.
• The following must be italicized:
  1. titles of monographs;
  2. case law (see below);
  3. foreign terms (for exceptions, see OSCOLA);
  4. words that the author wants to emphasize; and
  5. titles of entries in cross-references.
• Commonly used latin terms may or may not be italicized, but should remain consistent throughout the text.

Examples:
N Schrijver, Sovereignty over Natural Resources: Balancing Rights and Duties (CUP Cambridge 1997).
the Prosecutor acting proprio motu |
| 16. Judges | • If you want to include the information ‘Justice’, ‘Chief Justice’, etc, follow this format:

Examples:
Justice Gray, Chief Justice Fuller |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>

<th>Guidelines</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| 17. Measurements, units of                                              | • Use your discretion in order to optimize readability. Eg, if there is a single reference to an area, the indication “square kilometres” should be spelled out. If there is a row of measurements, abbreviations might be more suitable.
  • If you abbreviate units of measurement, use the standard abbreviations provided under the International System of Units, which can be found at: http://www.bipm.org/utils/common/pdf/si_brochure_8_en.pdf. |
| 18. Geographic Coordinates                                              | • Express the exact location using degrees (°), minutes (‘), and seconds (") and indicate the hemisphere (N, S, E, or W).                                                                                   |
| Example:                                                               | XYZ is located between the meridians 13° 50’ E and 15° 10’ E.                                                                                                                                              |
| 19. Non-English/non-Roman alphabets                                     | • Roman letters of non-English alphabets which do not exist in the English alphabet should be kept (ä, č, ë, i, ň, ö, ß, ž, etc). Do not transform them.
  • Titles, names, and words in non-Roman alphabets need to be transliterated, see http://www.loc.gov/catdir/cpso/roman.html. |
| 20. Non-English-language articles, books, and documents                | • When citing a document, an article, or a book in a language other than English, always give the document’s full title or name in the original language, keeping the original capitalization. The original language title may be followed by parentheses containing its shortened or full-length English title.
  • Do not translate journal or newspaper titles (eg, Le Monde, Zeitschrift zum Stiftungswesen, Annali di diritto internazionale...). |
| 21. Numbers                                                             | • Consistency within the respective contribution is required.
  • Use a decimal point not a comma to separate decimal numbers from full numbers.
  • Use a comma as punctuation for thousands.
  • Starting with millions, you should rather spell out the numbers as words.
  • Fractions should be written using their numeric form.                                                                                     |
| Examples:                                                               | 97.50%
  $40.80
  1,406
  126.3 km
  2 million
  1/2; 3/5; 4/7                                                                                                                                   |
| 22. Parentheses and brackets                                            | • For online materials, square brackets are usually used to provide information that will not appear in the text online, eg, to provide the URL of a source website, ensuring the link goes to the right place. However, if a citation number contains square brackets as part of its format, this is permissible.
  • If multiple parentheses and brackets make the text confusing, edit it.                                                                       |
<table>

</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>- Use single quotation marks (‘...’)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>- Only use double quotation marks for a quotation within another quotation (‘... “...”’)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Example:
The author writes that ‘the use of “structuralist” lenses will not contribute to the analysis’.

- Present quotations longer than three lines in an indented paragraph, with no further indentation of the first line. Do not surround indented paragraphs with quotation marks.

Example:
Lord Hoffmann reasoned as follows:

> It seems to me logical to found liability for damages upon the intention of the parties (objectively ascertained) because all contractual liability is voluntarily undertaken. It must be in principle wrong to hold someone liable for risks for which people entering into such a contract in their particular market, would not reasonably be considered to have undertaken.

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>- Non-English quotations need to be translated into English.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>- When inserting a translation into the text, the English translation should be written first, with the original plus the indication of the translator following inside parentheses.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Example:
In this kind of situation, the only answer, ‘however painful and..."
upsetting’ (‘si douloureuse et bouleversante qu’elle soit’ [translation by the author]), was transferring minorities to their own national state...

25. Spelling: Words with more than one British English spelling

When there is more than one British English spelling, feel free to use either form, but use it consistently throughout the text.

Example:
- Judgment or Judgement

However, although both ‘-ise’/-yse’ and ‘-ize’/-yze’ spellings are generally considered to be correct in British English, we use ‘-ize’/-yze’ spellings for the sake of consistency, as stated in para 5 of the 2002 edition of OSCOLA, except for those words that are never spelled with a ‘z’, such as ‘advertise’, ‘chastise’, ‘compromise’, ‘otherwise’, and ‘supervise’.

26. Time

- Time should be expressed in 12-hour cycles, referring to am or pm with a colon between the hours and minutes.

Example:
6:00 am
4:00 pm

II. In-text Citations, References and Quotes

27. Citation, general

- All source material should be cited within the text as instructed below, with the corresponding full reference listed at the end of the text.

- When making an internal reference to paragraphs or sections within the same article, do not use the citation signals infra and supra. Authors must instead use the words ‘above’ or ‘below’ to refer to paragraphs or sections within their own texts. If the internal reference appears within parentheses, the reference would take a form such as ‘see above para[s]/sec[s] etc’ or ‘see below para[s]/sec[s] etc’. If the internal reference appears within a sentence in the main text rather than inside parentheses, ‘paragraph’ or ‘section’ would not be abbreviated: eg, ‘Further discussion of this topic may be found in paragraphs 27–30 below’ or ‘Section G.3 below discusses this topic in greater depth’.

- Other citation signals (ff, seq etc) can also be used but must remain consistent throughout the text.

- The references section should be arranged in the following order:
  - Cited Bibliography
  - Further Bibliography
  - Cited Documents
  - Further Documents
  - Cited Cases
  - Further Cases

- In exceptional cases where an entry contains numerous citations from a single source, a special subsection may be created within the References sections to list all citations in an abbreviated form.
following the full citation of the main source.

- In cases where the same author is cited more than once with the same year, use the following format for citations:

  In-text example: (Smith, 2018a, 56); (Smith, 2018b)
  Cited Bibliography example: J Smith, Title of Book (Publisher Place 2018a); J Smith, Title of Book2 (Publisher Place 2018b).

- When citing a forthcoming work, please use the following format:

  In-text example: (Smith, forthcoming, 85)
  Cited Bibliography example: J Smith, Title of Book (Publisher if available forthcoming).

- However, in cases where two authors with the same surname are cited in the text of the same article, the initials of the authors may be used in the text if this is helpful to make it easier to differentiate between the two:

  In-text example: (RC Smith, 2012, 85; V Smith, 2015, 11)

- When citing multiple sources within the same parentheses, use a semicolon to separate the different citations.

- When citing a particular source which may not be covered in the guidelines or in the OUP Citator, please provide as much information as possible and use your personal best judgment to arrange the components of the citation in such a way as to mirror the guidelines as closely and consistently as possible.

36. Books and articles full references: General

- Author names should be arranged as: first initial(s) + full last name.
- Titles of articles and book chapters should be surrounded by single quotation marks: ‘Sample Title’.
- Titles of books should be italicized: Sample Title.
- List as much information as possible, ie, all author names, publisher, place, year, etc.
- See specific examples below.

37. Chronological order

- Bibliographical items will be listed in order of publication date, starting with the oldest.
- If a work or series was published over a range of years, go by the first year.
- If the date of publication is the same for two items, they will be arranged in alphabetical order by the author surname.
- When an author’s name appears consecutively, use ‘---’ instead of repeating the name.

Example of correct order:

- When alphabetizing, prefixes matter if they are capitalized.

Examples of title and prefix capitalization:
- Van de Craen is listed under “V”
- van Dyk is listed under “D”
- D'Amato is listed under “D”
- de Zayas is listed under “Z”
- von Bogdandy is listed under “B”
- Eduardo Jimenez de Aréchaga is listed under “J”
- Friedrich August Freiherr von der Heydte is listed under “H”
| 38. Indication of page range | Within the Bibliography sections, indicate the entire page range of the source.
In the second number of a range, only write out the last one or two digits, unless the ‘100’ threshold is crossed.
Examples:
376–92 not 376–392
1206–1310 not 1206–310
However, when the penultimate digit of both numbers delineating a sequence is zero, only the final digit (that in the right-most column) of the second number should be cited.
Examples:
1002–6 not 1002–06 |
|---|---|
| 39. Honorific titles | In the Bibliography, Lady and Sir are dropped; Lord, Graf, Freiherr are not dropped.
Order titles (Knight etc) are dropped.
Examples:
| 40. Citation of journals, yearbooks, and other periodicals: Abbreviation of their titles | Consult the ‘List of Abbreviations’ here:
http://opil.ouplaw.com/staticfiles/MPEPIL%20list%20of%20abbreviations.pdf and follow it. That list precedes all other formatting rules.
When unsure about the correct abbreviation, write out the full, exact title of the journal. |
| 41. Citation of MPEPIL entries (online and print) | Cite the online version of an MPEPIL (or MPECCOL) article as follows:
Example:
Cite the print edition of the MPEPIL as follows:
| 42. Citation of books and articles: Subtitles | Articles and books should be cited with both main title and subtitle, separated by a colon.
Examples:

| 48. Citation of books: Multi-volume books | If you refer to a book that is part of a multi-volume work stick to the following format as far as possible:
   Author + general title of the entire work + vol no + title of the specific volume + (publisher + place of publication + year of publication)
   The year of publication should state the year of publication of the first volume cited followed by an n-dash and the year of publication of the last volume cited.

   'texttexttext' (Brown, 1992, vol 1, 262)
   In the Cited Bibliography:
|------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 49. Citation of books: Oppenheim         | Example:
| 50. Citation of books: Publishing houses | ▪ Use shortened name of a publisher where possible, eg Nijhoff (instead of Martinus Nijhoff), Kluwer (instead of Kluwer International etc), Nomos (instead of Nomos Verlagsgesellschaft). |
| 51. Citation of books: Place of publication | ▪ Indicate the location of the publisher as it is indicated in the book.
   ▪ Do not translate the names of towns into English yourself.
| 52. Citation of books: Revised / edited books | ▪ If the second (or any further) edition of a book is revised and edited by someone other than the original author, indicate as follows:
   Author of original book + title + (name of editor + ed, no of edn + publisher + place of publication + year of publication).
   Example:
| 53. Citation of books: Reprinted books   | ▪ For reprinted books, stick to the following format:
   Author + title + (publisher + place of publication + year of publication, reprinted by publisher + place of publication + year of publication).
   Example:
| 54. Citation of books: Single chapters   | ▪ If the author only wants to include a chapter of a book in the bibliography, cite the beginning and end page of the relevant chapter.
   ▪ The title of the chapter does not need to be cited. If the author has indicated it, leave it. |
55. Citation of books: Translated works

- The translator of a book will only be named if he or she is also the editor of the book. In this case, use (tr) instead of (ed).

Example:

P Birks and G McLeod (trs), The Institutes of Justinian ...

56. General: style and alphabetical order

- Documents are to be arranged in alphabetical order. If the title of a document begins with an article, use the second word for alphabetization purposes.

- Do not capitalize articles (the, a, an...) or prepositions (in, of, between, by, at, concerning, relating to...) in document titles.

- Underline the title of the document.

- Surround the whole citation with asterisks.

- If the only information available to cite a document is a URL link, please ensure that this links to the document itself rather than to the organization's website (unless the citation is included at the top of the Documents section and is intended as a citation to the website of the organization itself).

Example of correct order:

Convention internationale pour régler la Tutelle des Mineurs (signed 12 June 1902, entered into force 30 July 1904) 95 BSP 421.*

57. Translations of documents, non-official

- Never refer to a non-official translation of a document. In this case, include the original non-English document in the list of Cited/Further Documents.

58. Websites

In general, we request that authors try to avoid including URLs in the text of the article; instead, we recommend including them along with the full citations in the Documents sections. OUP will then capture this information in the relevant Citator entry for the item cited, which can then be updated accordingly, and the URL will not itself appear in the article online. To facilitate this, please include any relevant URLs after the citation, but outside the asterisks and after the link type (if assigned) in the form shown below (square brackets, bold).

Committee of Ministers, Rules of the Committee of Ministers for the Supervision of the Execution of Judgments and of the Terms of Friendly Settlements (adopted by the Committee of Ministers on 10 May 2006 and amended on 18 January 2017).* https://rm.coe.int/16806eebf0 (accessed 1
However, exceptions are sometimes permitted:

(1) If the author finds that it would be very useful to include a URL in the text itself, or very cumbersome to avoid including it in the text, then that URL can be included in the text.

(2) Also, it may sometimes be useful to include a URL in a bibliography entry if no print source is available (since Citator records are not usually created for bibliography entries) or if the source cited is available for free on the website of an organization.

(3) And where an author wishes to include in the Cited Documents or Further Documents a citation to the main website for an organization, it is also permissible to do this by making such an entry the first entry at the top of the relevant Documents section.

In cases like these where the author does want a URL to appear in the article itself (whether in the text or in the references sections), a different notation should be used to ensure that the data is captured correctly, in which the URL is surrounded by the “<” and “>” characters rather than being enclosed in square brackets. Below I have included an example for each of the three circumstances described above:

(1) In text: These statistics are regularly posted on the website of the Universal Postal Union (<http://www.upu.int/index.html> [accessed 10 January 2007]).

59. Citation of COE Documents

- For COE Committee of Ministers documents, insert spaces on either side of the parentheses but no space before the letter—E or F—at the end.

  Example: CM/Res (2000) 50E.

- COE Committee of Ministers declarations: Follow the rules that the COE itself follows.

  Example: CM/Decl-29.04.82E.

- There are exceptions to this when the document itself shows a very
60. Citation of European treaties

In the text:
- For a single appearance, use: Official Treaty Name [Year]
- For multiple appearances: In the first appearance use: ‘Official Treaty Name’ (abbreviated form), [Year]
- If citing again, use: Abbreviated form

Examples:
- Single appearance: Treaty on European Union [2008]
- Multiple appearances: Treaty on European Union (‘TEU’) [2008]

As mentioned in Article 10 TEU, the EU is founded in representative democracy...

Further in text examples:
Similar agreements are contemplated in Article 23 TFEU (former Art 20 EC Treaty), which provides that ‘every citizen of the Union shall ... be entitled to protection by the diplomatic or consular authorities of any member state’.

In CILFIT Srl v Ministry of Health (1982) the CJEU considered the application of Article 177 EEC Treaty. According to Article 177 EEC Treaty (now Art 267 TFEU), if a question is raised before a national court of a member state, that court ‘may’ request the CJEU to give a ruling.

In the Cited Documents:
- For founding treaties, consolidated versions etc, see https://eur-lex.europa.eu/homepage.html.
- Cite to the most recent consolidated versions that have entered into force, unless the author explicitly refers to an earlier version.

Examples:

61. Citation of national legislation

- As a matter of priority, provide the most information possible, including multiple citations, where available and applicable.
- Follow the following format as far as possible:

  Name of Law in Original Language (English translation), Date, Official Source (Country).

62. Citation of UN

- After the first mention, abbreviate ‘United Nations’ to ‘UN’; ‘UN Security Council’ to ‘UNSC’; ‘UN General Assembly’ to ‘UNGA’; and
| documents | ‘Resolution’ to ‘Res’.
| | • Cite the full names of lesser known, or more specialized, UN organs or bodies, rather than their abbreviations.
| | • Do not cite resolution titles, unless it is particularly useful to do so. If the title is needed, place it after a comma following the author organization and resolution number in the citation.
| | In the text:
| | Author Res Number (date).
| | Examples
| | First mention of UNGA Res
| | Subsequent mentions of UNSC Res
| | • UNSC Res 1373 (28 September 2001)
| | In the Cited Documents:

| | Examples:
V. Cited Cases and Further Cases: Listing references to cases and in-text examples

65. Cited Cases and Further Cases: general

- Cases are to be arranged in alphabetical order. If the title of a case begins with an article, use the second word for alphabetization purposes.

  Example:

  Georgi Ivnov Elchinov, 5 October 2010, Case C-173/09, ECLI:EU:C:2010:581.*

  NOT

  TDC, 9 October 2014, Case C-222/13, ECLI:EU:C:2014:2265.*

- The authors can choose to provide subdivisions in the Cited Cases/Further Cases, arranging the subdivisions alphabetically by the name of the court.
- If there is an official name for the case, this can be included, for example ‘The Fisheries Case’, and this would be alphabetized under F (since articles are disregarded for alphabetization purposes).
- Where official case names are used involving the name of an individual (eg John Smith v Jamaica), this case would be alphabetized under S.
- Underline the title of the case.
- Indicate the dates of the decision as completely as possible.
- Surround the whole citation with asterisks.

66. Citation of cases: Identical titles

- When two or more cases have the same title
  - Either introduce different short forms for the respective cases within the running text. The short forms, including the dates, are in italics, see OSCOLA.
  - Or cite the complete case name (as usual, in italics) and add the year of the case (in normal font).

Examples in running text:

Short case name (Libya v Malta [1984]) and Short case name (Libya v Malta [1985])

67. Citation of cases: Multiple claimants or defendants; first names

- Where there are multiple parties, only the first claimant and first defendant are named. Where the parties are individuals, given names and initials are omitted. Follow OSCOLA.

  - The EHRR is not to be cited.
  - Omit the words 'Case of'.
  - If both parties are cited in the case name, do not drop the name of the State Party. If only the individual is cited within the case name, the name of the State Party may be added.
  - Some ECtHR cases start the numbering of paragraphs at each section. If a pinpoint reference is needed for such a case, use the section number together with the paragraph number. Do not cite the page number of the official publication, assuming that most readers use the online documents available at HUDOC.
